

To the family and friends of Raffaele

Together with G Ius Italy and the community of Italian architects have lost during the same year two of their most precious personalities.

It is very sad for me to write these few words. It reminds me of all our meetings, in Rome , in Torino and elsewhere. Raffaele was a man of conviction and deep dedication for the profession.

Our discussions were not always easy but somehow at the end , we always managed to find common grounds. We could reach this consensual position, because deep inside we share common values. Values that will always be with him in the Eternal Orient.

Thank you Raffaele for the road we shared together. I will keep with me the respect of a man of conviction and dedication.
